Our Radiators are produced & outputs measured according to the approved standard BS EN442 which uses Delta t50°C (Δt). BS EN442 states that all hydronic radiators and towel rails are tested and presented at Delta T50 or T50. If you need to know outputs based on a different Delta T you can simply multiply the listed Delta T50 outputs by the correction factors shown in the table below to get the appropriate output for your system.

The Cornel Electric range combines the classic Cornel design with the flexibility of a fully controllable electric element. Offering 8 function modes, the Cornel Electric can be set to operate when you wish, on a daily basis, or you can select one of the three pre-set programmes. The Open Window Function detects an open external door or window and will turn the radiator off if it detects that it is allowing heat to escape, saving energy and money.

- Available in White RAL 9016, 23 RAL colours & 10 special finishes

Internal CORNEL Curved

Our CORNEL Curved radiators are made to order and can be curved to fit bay windows. Wall brackets are supplied as standard, optional welded feet are available, please specify at time of order.

Radiators can be curved using up to 40 sections, minimum 10 sections (450mm).

It is essential to always know how much heat you need to keep your room comfortable.

Use our online Heat Output Calculator to work out how much heat you will need for your room before you size your straight radiator.

Curving is a precise process and as such, accurate measurements and calculations must be made and checked before production can begin.

Since our CORNEL Curved is made on a bespoke basis to your exact requirements, we have created a specification form to make the process as easy as possible;

To order your curved radiator follow these simple steps;

- Go to our website supplies4heat.co.uk and select 'Cornel Curved' (or scan QR code above) and download the specification form which explains how to measure for your curved radiator, we can also email the specification form to you direct by calling 01342 306880.
- When you have reviewed the specification form, double-check your measurements are correct to see how your radiator will fit in your space.
- Complete the specification form with the dimensions of your bay and return it to your chosen merchant/installer to place an initial order.
- You will receive a technical drawing of your bay and requested measurements from your merchant and if you are happy you will need to sign the document.
- Use the signed specification form to place your order with your merchant/installer to start production.

Please note; once you have signed off your drawings and ordered your curved radiator it cannot be cancelled or returned.

Calculate the number of sections you need by dividing the required BTU (Watt) output with the output per section; e.g 4500 BTUs divided by 225 = 20 sections, based on 4 column, 500mm high sections (always round up to the next whole number of sections). If the use of this section size does not work in the available space, try a different column option or if possible a different height.

ACCESSORIES - ELEMENTS

There are three types of element you can use with your towel rail; a manual electric element and two thermostatic electric elements. Use a T-Piece to enable the towel rail to be dual fuel - electric and hot water. Dual fuel valves and t-pieces can be found opposite.

How to choose your Element

It is important to select the correct size element for your towel rail. Too small and it will not provide enough heat, too large and it can burn out.

The chart opposite will help you choose the right size element; we have listed the towel rail output in watts and the corresponding recommended size of element.
